

Senate Cuts Deeper
WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The Senate today cut another 193 million dollars from President Eisenhower's $53,300,000, 090 budget request for new appropriations. This boosted reductions in three money bills passed thus far to more than 375 million.

Disclosure Legislation
WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—A bipartisan bill to require full public disclosure of financial and other reports now filed by unions with the government was introduced in the Senate today.

Ike Renews Fight
CINCINNATI, May 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower today renewed his opposition to cuts in his foreign aid and military budget, and said years of sacrifice to keep the peace "can never equal the sacrifices of one week of global war."

Plenty Of Power
LONDON, May 17 (AP)—Britain announced tonight that her first H-bomb test explosion in the Pacific was equivalent to one million tons of TNT.

Adopt Strict Code
WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The executive board of the United Steelworkers Union today adopted an ethical practices code believed to be stricter than any other in the labor movement.

Boy Buried Alive
CODY, Wyo., May 17 (AP)—A 2-year-old boy was buried alive and suffocated today in a narrow sewer line near his home. Sheriff Frank Blackburn said blond Richard Thun apparently was playing in the five-foot deep trench this morning when his right foot became wedged between the clay side of the ditch and the pipe at the bottom.

Egypt Issues Warning To Israel

CAIRO, May 17 (AP)—Egypt served notice today she will exercise the "right of self-defense" if Israel attempts to send a test ship through the Suez Canal. Israel appeared to be shying away from any immediate move in that direction.

Abdel Kader Hatem, director of information, expressed the first official Egyptian reaction to Israel's announcement that she would try to send a ship through the 103-mile waterway which Egypt has nationalized.

Hatem's statement hinted Egypt would try to halt any Israeli ship the moment it enters Egyptian territorial waters and before it could reach a canal entrance.

Contention
Egypt contends she is still in a technical state of war with Israel. For that reason she has barred the canal to Israeli shipping and to vessels carrying anything considered of strategic value to Israel.

Hatem said Egypt will take "whatever measures she deems necessary for the canal, which is an integral part of her territory." He declared Egypt has "the right to defend her territory and safeguard her security" under Article 10 of the Constantinople Convention of 1888 governing the waterway.

The statement said Egypt "will exercise this right fully and will hold fast to it, for it is her legal right as stated in Article 51 of the United Nations charter, which says that every state is entitled to the right of 'self-defense.'"

Three Hot Races On Tap At Primary Polls

By Leonard Randolph
MONROE County's 1957 primary election campaign shifted into automatic drive yesterday.

The signs were numerous and traditional. Mailboxes throughout the county were stuffed with circular letters beginning: "Dear Fellow Democrat" and "Dear Republican Friend."

The annual Spring bird fancier found a new species outside his doorstep. He was called the "Political Buttonholer" and he was much in evidence on sidewalks, in the middle of streets, along the green countryside and at public gatherings.

A spate of last-minute political speeches cascaded into evidence. Speakers at meetings sponsored by Democrats or Republicans appeared to urge their fellow party members to choose them in preference to the next speakers on the platform. Both were running for the same office at the same time. They seldom attempted to speak at the same time, however, the rules of political courtesy within parties being what they are. Most of the interest in the Monroe County election centers on the race for the Democratic nomination for President Judge in this district. Incumbent Fred W. Davis is assured of the Republican party nomination since he is unopposed on his own ticket.

But Davis is running for the nomination of both parties. In his attempt to snare the Democratic spot he is opposed by Russell Mervine, local attorney, who has carried on an active campaign touching all areas of Monroe and Pike judicial district.

Other county offices receiving most mention are the races for the treasurer and coroner's nominations in the Democratic party. There is a three-way race for the Democratic treasurer's nomination between Nelson Westbrook, Dr. William Andrew and Claude Metzgar. The coroner's nomination lies in the Democratic race between Daniel G. Warner, Stroudsburg funeral director and Perry Stearns, an East Stroudsburg physician.

The Republican candidate for county treasurer, Donald Dimmick, Stroudsburg RD 2, is unopposed. This is Dimmick's first battle for public office. In Stroudsburg, the major source of political commentary and interest is in the race for the Democratic nomination for chief burgess.

Burgess Hal H. Harris is seeking renomination to his party's ticket for the office he has held for six terms. He is opposed by Ed Doran, First Ward councilman.

Besides these top-level races there are voters' decisions to be made in other county nominations and in nearly 500 party posts in borough and township races. County commissioners—acting as the board of elections—predicted at recent meetings that this will be "the largest election" in the history of the county.

In terms of compiling information and deciding individual races within districts, commissioners have noted, the Tuesday primary promises to be more complex than any other recent election day. Clinton Frantz, East Stroudsburg, incumbent - appointee, and Harry T. Hamblin, Swiftwater, are seeking nomination as Democratic jury commissioners.

Clair Learn, Stroudsburg, is unopposed on the Republican ticket.

Bangor Firm Denies Charge By Union

BANGOR — Blue Ridge Textile Co. management yesterday issued a formal statement denying that the company had refused to bargain with employees.

This charge had been made against the company Thursday by Samuel Frost, assistant regional director of the Textile Workers Union of America.

In another action, Blue Ridge president, William Winkler made public a letter to all employees "who have been called back to work." The letter was an attempt to clarify the company's stand in the strike, management spokesmen said.

In the denial that Blue Ridge had refused to negotiate with employees, the company said:

Statement
"This company, by law, must bargain and negotiate matters concerning its employees with any person or group of persons who can truly show that they have been selected by a majority of our employees to so represent them."

The letter to workers read: "Dear Employee: If you are one who has been called to your job but have not felt free to return, we want to make clear to you our position."

"We do not know how you personally feel about a union, that is up to you, but we can assure you whatever it is, it will not affect your future with this company. You and we must abide by the will of the majority when that will is expressed in accordance with law."

"You and we, like all God-fearing Americans will be good sports and abide by that decision."

"Come in. You will not be interfered with. Those who are in (more than half of those called have come) are working in good spirit toward each other. They are earning their daily pay and are helping us to maintain our position in the trade."

"Please talk this over with your wife, family, friends or with us if you want to."

"We hope that you will come in to work so that we can settle our differences while you are working."

Schedule
"If you have not been called back to work, it is because we have had to rearrange our schedule due to cancellations and changes in our orders. As soon as we can determine what our requirements are you will be notified."

The letter was signed "Blue Ridge Textile Co. Inc."

Union officials charged Thursday that "only 40" persons showed up for work at the textile company's plants in Bangor that day when the plants were put back in partial operation again.

Voluntary offers of assistance to strikers at Blue Ridge from "area unions were made public Thursday by TWUA officials."

Tolls May Fade Away

MORRISVILLE, Pa., May 17 (AP)—Five bridges operated by the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission will be toll free by the end of 1965, Executive Director George L. Feaster, predicts.

Feaster said an increased program of retiring toll bridge bonds, "prudent investments would permit dropping tolls on five bridges."

Locations
Those which he said would become toll free within the next 8½ years are Trenton - Morrisville, Columbia, Delaware Water Gap and Milford-Montague.

The commission also operates 12 free bridges spanning the Delaware above Trenton.

A reorganization of the operations of the free bridges will mean a saving of about $155,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957, Feaster said. During that time 47 employees were pared from the payroll.

He said, "The reduction of 47 was achieved by the elimination of free bridges police at various facilities, reduction in force at others, along with modification in the supervisory categories."

Benjamin Hooper Expected To Survive 'Miracle' Ordeal

MANORVILLE, N. Y., May 17 (AP)—Benjamin Hooper Jr., 7, was rescued alive tonight, after being trapped upright and all but motionless for 23½ hours in a 24-foot well.

At a hospital where he was taken, he was expected to survive. He was conscious and called for his mother.

Rescuers clawed through the last few feet of earth with bare hands to get to the boy. Weak movements and the flicker of his blue eyes signalled the miraculous survival of the little chap, for whom hope had been all but abandoned hours earlier.

He tumbled into a newly dug well in the backyard of his father's Long Island home at 7:30 p.m. last night. It was 7:10 p.m. tonight when rescuers — heartbreakingly frustrated most of the day by landslides—finally broke through to his side from a rescue shaft.

In a few more moments, Benny was taken from the dark, cramped well bottom by Sam Woodson, a Negro rescue worker. Said Woodson, beside himself with joy: "I was the happiest boy alive when I saw his blue eyes."

Benny, his color good and his eyes open, was rushed by ambulance to a hospital at nearby Mastic Beach, N.Y.

Doctor
There a doctor said he was conscious and "called for his mommy."

"He's doing all right," the physician added. "I think he'll be all right."

At 10:30 p.m., three hours after rescuers had clawed through the last few feet of earth with bare hands to reach him, the boy was reported reacting nicely to treatment at Mastic Hospital.

Dr. J. H. Kris, the attending physician, said "The boy's condition is good. He is able to talk and asked for food. He has taken some food. Everything is on the up and up."

The physician said, however, it would be necessary to keep a close watch for the next 24 hours, because of the danger of pneumonia in such cases.

The boy was suffering somewhat from exposure. He was put in an oxygen tent for the night.

Dr. Joseph F. Kris put an oxygen mask over the boy's face as he was brought out. A reporter asked: "Is he still alive?"

"Yes, thank God," the physician replied. Then, forgetting of everything else, Dr. Kris grabbed the reporter's hand and wrung it in elation.

Several hundred persons looked on at the climax to a feverish night and day of rescue efforts. From their throats came a hoarse half-shriek, half-sob of exultation as it dawned on them that Benny had survived.

"It's a miracle, it's a miracle," sobbed one unidentified bystander over and over again.

Benny's father, who had worked with rescuers until he collapsed, then came back to keep vigil beside the well, shouted almost incoherently: "He's alive, he's alive."

Dash
Then the elder Hooper dashed wildly for his house to break the news to Benny's mother, almost prostrate with grief and a growing hopelessness.

Just before the boy was brought out, a rescue worker had reached him and touched him. But when the man emerged from the well, he said: "I believe he is dead."

The father had taken this news with a sober nod of the head. But almost before Hooper had felt the shock of it, a voice rang out from the rescue pit: "The boy is opening his eyes."

The water of the rescue was enhanced by the almost utter lack of hope that had nagged rescuers as they toiled toward the trapped boy. Sand had drifted down on him and at one point not even the beseeching tip of an upward thrust hand was visible to rescue workers from the top of the well.

But strong suction pumps drew out some of the sand, and the hand became visible again.

Attempt At Escape Fails
SCRANTON, May 17 (AP)—A Throop man attempted to escape from a sheriff's deputy and prison guard today shortly after he was sentenced to 10 to 20 years in jail for an attempted safe burglary last April.

Edward Wojdakowski, 42, slipped a penknife from his pocket as the car he was being taken to Lackawanna County jail neared the prison. He held it at the throat of Deputy Sheriff Stanley Barnatevich.

Girls Testify For Mother
SCRANTON, Pa., May 17 (AP)—Three little girls today told a jury trying their mother for murder that they loved her dearly but feared and disliked their father.

The mother, Mrs. Doris Gribbin, 41, is accused of killing her husband, Eugene, 34, with a gun after an argument at home last Feb. 21.

Beck's Cousin Hides Behind Amendment

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Norman Gessert, Dave Beck's cousin by marriage, took the Fifth Amendment 71 times in a 21-minute appearance before the Senate Rackets Investigation Committee today.

"I guess he made a record," Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) commented sourly at the end of the fruitless questioning.

Gessert not only declined to talk about his profitable dealings with Beck, president of the Teamsters Union, but even refused to state his name or acknowledge that he knew his own lawyer sitting beside him.

The Fifth Amendment provides that no one shall be required to testify against himself. Beck has invoked it more than 200 times but his appearances before the committee extended over a much longer period than Gessert's 21 minutes.

McClellan called Gessert's attitude "clearly detrimental to labor unionism."

Accounting

"These people owe an accounting for their actions involving the use of union funds," he told newsmen. "Those funds are held in trust for the benefit of unionism, and not for the personal profit of union officials and their kind."

Gessert, a husky, graying man, had been sought by the committee for more than two months for questioning about his financial deals with Beck. He was finally subpoenaed Wednesday after a police chase in Ellensburg, Wash.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said Gessert drew more than $50,000 in salary and expenses from the Teamsters Union from April, 1954, to March 31, 1957.

State Calls Hommel In Smith Trial

HACKENSACK, N. J., May 17 (AP)—The state today called Donald Hommel, placed by the defense at the scene of the crime, to testify in the trial of Edgar Smith, accused of slaying a young schoolgirl.

But before the 21-year-old Hommel, a drug store clerk and part-time cabbie, could take the stand, the defense quickly asked for postponement of his testimony until Monday. The court granted it.

The stage thus was set for a courtroom drama Monday casting Hommel in a leading role.

Charge

Smith's attorney, John E. Selser, charged in his opening statement Wednesday that Smith last saw Victoria Zielinski, bleeding and battered, in Hommel's company at the gravel pit the night she was killed, March 4.

Hommel has denied it outside court. The trial was drawing on in mid-afternoon when Prosecutor Guy W. Calissl, reversing previous statements to newsmen only hours before, suddenly called Hommel to testify.

As Hommel, a tall crew-cut youth, strode to the front of the court, Selser leaped to his feet.

POWER IN A PEACEFUL INTERLUDE — Tomorrow's "Open House" at Tobyhanna Signal Depot will be designed to illustrate the Armed Forces' "Power for Peace" program. On display and in action demonstrations, visitors will see the latest creations: in air power, ground equipment and a simulated atomic fission device. But a part of the "power for peace" will be shown only at the end of the day's tireless activity when these men gather in retreat formation before the mammoth equipment display. They are members of the Honor Guard Team at the Depot and the 579th Signal Company. (U.S. Army Photo)

A Masterpiece in the Flower Kingdom

The orchid is a flower of great beauty! It is recognized by horticulturists as a masterpiece in the flower kingdom, and reaches maturity only after seven years cultivation.

Physical beauty is the only requirement the orchid must fulfill to assume its place in the world. It is otherwise a soulless botanical specimen.

The botanist who cultivated this flower also possessed a son, and as the orchid approached maturity so also grew the child. The flower and the child were the objects of his greatest pride and affection. While his success with the orchid was certain, he failed in the greatest responsibility of his life—the training of his son.

The father's failure was caused by his inability to see the all important difference between the soulless flower and the immortal soul of his son. He thought only of the physical and mental prowess of his boy and thus neglected the child's greatest potential heritage—spiritual development. He had forgotten there was a Church! He had forgotten God!

The Church offers guidance and help to parents in the training of their children. Every parent and every child needs the sustaining strength of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hospital Earns Professional Honor

News that Monroe County General Hospital had again qualified for the coveted certificate of accreditation comes, appropriately, during the observance of National Hospital Week.

Purpose of the observance, held jointly with Pennsylvania Nurse Week in this state, is to focus the attention of citizens on the contributions, past and present, which the health professions and hospitals have made to every person's welfare and security.

General Hospital can be justly proud of the honor it received when the Joint Commission of Accreditation renewed the hospital's certificate of accreditation.

"The commission wishes to commend you for maintaining standards deserving of accreditation and for your constant effort to improve the quality of patient care," said a letter accompanying notice of the renewal.

Composed of five top professional organizations in the health field, the commission sets rigid standards for hospitals to follow in qualifying for accreditation. A certificate is granted only after a thorough evaluation of the services offered, how well the hospital is staffed and organized, and the physical condition of the plant.

Looking at it from the layman's viewpoint, the commission is the policing agent which checks on hospital standards for the protection of the public.

That Monroe County General Hospital has again passed the test is reassuring news to the thousands of people living in its service area. No one especially looks forward to becoming a hospital patient, but when the time comes, it's good to know the institution measures up to the high standards set by the profession.

Better Handled By Local Governments

Taxpayers are applying a lot of pressure on Congress to reduce the federal budget wherever possible. At the same time, tendencies have been to overlook the greatly increased budget proposed for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The total increase in all state appropriations over the last biennium is $135,816,000, or 21.1 per cent. That's more than six dollars the taxpayer must supply for every five dollars he coughed up in 1955-57.

Just where to cut state budgets and taxes is a problem. One answer, and perhaps the best, to increasing state and federal budgets would be to turn back to the cities, boroughs, townships, counties and school districts every function they can perform.

More economy is likely to be used in handling such functions and services when they are where the individual citizen can get at them to criticize and to see how they are being handled and to know more specifically what they cost.

Highway Progress Reports Desirable

It is just about one year since the $3 billion dollar federal interstate highway program became law.

In those 12 months its administrators have encountered such a variety of obstacles that they are already saying the program will take 15 instead of the originally indicated 13 years.

Their problems are varied. They range from rising costs to insufficient planning. It is said, too, that technically trained manpower is lacking.

We must realize that a great master plan for highways or anything else cannot simply be "imposed" on a nation of three million square miles. There are a lot of preparations necessary.

Periodic progress reports should be furnished by the government, however. We should be kept informed regularly as to how much is being accomplished under this ambitious highway project.

Frank Costello, Stereotype Of Crime Era, Charged Only With Tax Evasion, Contempt

It has been said that Frank Costello is to a degree, possibly to a startling degree, a creature of newspapermen, particularly those in New York who have attributed to him the wisdom of Solomon and the depravity of Bill Sikes. Well, everything can be attributed to newspapermen as it is to Frank Costello, but it may also be said that where there is smoke, there must be fire.

Crime exists in all big cities throughout the world and what is crime in one place is not crime in another, as the determination as to what is a crime is an act of legislation. For instance, in New York City it is a crime to gamble but not to speculate.

Those who engage in bet-taking are criminals, but those who publish odds and provide tips for the bettors and the bettors themselves are not criminals. Or, to take another instance, it is lawful to ruin a man's business by surrounding it with a shouting, shrieking picket line but it is illegal to ruin his business by defaming his character or ridiculing his product.

If all the laws on the statute books were vigorously enforced, it is probable that the people would rise up against the tyranny: on the other hand, crime flourishes best when public officials permit the criminals to move within certain margins. It is unquestionably true that no city is wide-open without official consent and connivance. It may also be that public opinion is apathetic and regards the law as an instrument of power rather than of social benefit.

Frank Costello has become the stereotype of criminal activity of the present period. The probability is that public opinion is 10 or even 20 years behind the fact; that whatever Frank Costello has done apart from income tax evasion and gambling, was committed so long ago that the statute of limitations has long since run.

At any rate, the law has come up only with income tax evasion which, while it is wrong is not unpopular, and contempt of court which in his particular instance does not move public opinion against him.

In the Lanza Case public officials placed a microphone in a cell and listened into the conversation of a prisoner and his counsel, an act that is clearly unconstitutional and against which all bar associations ought to protest if they are not too timid to raise their voices in defense of the Constitution.

When law-enforcement officers violate the law they are as guilty as the worst offender and ought not to be protected. It ought to be made clear who picked Frank Costello's pocket and why. It is not important to defend Lanza or Costello; it is important to preserve constitutional rights.

Law enforcement grows increasingly more difficult, as crime becomes more businesslike and complicated, and more thoroughly organized and more protected by the law. For be it known that just as the law-enforcement agencies seek legislation to prevent and put down crime, so do the forces of organized crime find means to use the law advantageously and there are lawyers and courts to protect them.

In such a case as the one now pending against Frank Costello, the situation actually is this: Costello was in the lobby of his own apartment house, engaged in no criminal activity, but like the honest burglar, was returning to his domicile from a public restaurant, whereupon a punk walked up to him and sought to kill him but failed in the attempt.

Costello was taken to a hospital where it was found that he was suffering from a slight scalp wound which was soon mended. He was interrogated by the police but chose silence. Some time during the interrogation, the police came into possession of a slip of paper which to them and other experts indicated that Costello was engaged in gambling.

Because he would not explain to law officers or to a grand jury, he was arrested on the charge of contempt of court.

All of this is normal except the piece of paper is his property and upon it the law-enforcement agencies can only act by due process. The punk who tried to kill Costello is either free or dead, but Costello is in jail for being shot at.

pretty sore and demanded "Who was Mickey playing, me, or a Palace acrobat? The trouble with being dead is that I can't consult my attorneys."

"You had better tip off Jimmy Walker," we suggested.

"Why?" asked George.

"What happened to you may be nothing compared to what can happen to him," we explained. "A move is being made of his life and Jimmy will be played by BOB HOPE!"

George sighed and started revolving again. Oh, well, Jimmy gets a break. It could be Liberace, Ramon of the Jungle, Kirk Douglas or Fred Astaire!" he said.

Police Officer Praised For Handling Of Accident

Middletown, Conn.
Strout's Record, April 28, 1957

Dear Editor:
On May 4, 1957, I was a competitor in the Fox Gap Sports Car Hill Climb and arrived in Stroudsburg in the afternoon of May 2nd and was unfortunately, immediately involved in an accident that damaged the rear of my car. At that time, Officer Charles Allen was at the scene and handled the incident in his official capacity.

Participation in Sports Car events has taken me to a large number of cities and towns in many states and I have seldom seen a case handled as quietly, efficiently and with more courtesy shown toward all persons involved than that displayed by Officer Allen.

I would like to take this opportunity to commend Officer Allen and the Stroudsburg Police Department whom I feel are a credit to the city and tend to make one look forward to a return visit to Stroudsburg.

On Broadway

The Broadway Crowd
Ginger Rogers' closest friends report that the divorce action is the toughest role she ever played. That she "knew" it wouldn't feel when they married and that she may never wed again... Gwen Verdon, who won such a big success as "The Band Wagon," flunked the initial audition. They wanted Shirley Winters... Some first-nighters wondered about the persistent items doted about that Miss Verdon and choreographer Robert Fosse would marry... The swank set are appalled over the Linda Christian publicity hoopla. They say the Marquis de Portago's wealthy mother will be on the young widow's team. She did all she could to keep their marriage from crashing... Time may confirm our tip that Lady Iris Mountbatten became a secret bride recently. They describe him as a well-to-do broker. Perhaps he is. Years ago, however, he played guitar in Benny Goodman's band and not long ago was on the staff at "Lucky Pierre's."

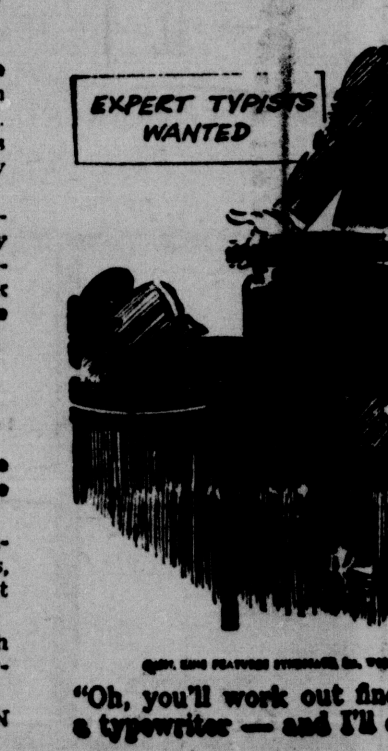

There will be a midnight wedding at the 1st Presbyterian Church tonight. Nancy Devlin, who plays a 12-year-old in "Hotel Paradiso," will wed teenage actor Chris Bohn. The cast will be the witnesses. No honeymoon. The groom has tv bookings in Chicago... Budd Schulberg reportedly rejected Mickey Rooney for the lead in the film version of "What Makes Sammy Run?" He has final say on who is cast... James ("Kleenex") prexy Kimberly, who was boomed for Sen. McCarthy's Senate seat, told well-meaning boosters he knows nothing about politics—to drop the subject... Sorry to see the Sid Caesar program go... Janet Blair has a million dollars in movie, teevee and stage contracts waiting for her signature.

One of the best kept movie secrets is "The Earth Is Born," produced by Transfilm Technicolor... Based on Life's series... It took 3½ years to make. It runs only 27 minutes. Broadway gets it in the Fall.

Robert S. Allen Reports...

U.S. Expresses Approval Of Dag's Trip To Hungary

Washington, May 17—The U.S. favors Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld making that long trip to Hungary.

This unannounced approval was expressed by Secretary Dulles in response to an inquiry from the United Nations director. He has sounded out other Western leaders, with similar favorable reaction.

As a result, Hammarskjöld is formulating plans to go to Hungary in July or August.

In broaching this matter to Dulles and others, the UN Secretary General informed them he had discussed it during his recent audience with Pope Plus XII. According to Hammarskjöld, the Pontiff indicated that a visit to both Hungary and Poland might be of value.

The projected trip to Hungary is largely dependent on two factors:

(1) Whether the puppet Kadar government puts limitations on Hammarskjöld's traveling in Hungary; and (2) the satellite regime's reaction to the forthcoming report of the special UN committee that has been studying the Hungarian uprising and its ferocious suppression by Russian armored forces.

The Committee's findings are slated to be submitted to the UN General Assembly in June. It is authoritatively understood they are scathingly critical of both the Kadar government and the Soviet.

Permission to visit Hungary was sought by Hammarskjöld last November, following the crushing of the freedom fighters. He did this at the direction of the General Assembly, Puppet Premier Kadar, after a long delay during which he consulted the Kremlin, rejected Hammarskjöld's request.

But several months ago, the satellite regime suddenly announced it was willing to permit the visit. Beyond that statement, there was no indication how much Hammarskjöld would be allowed to see and where he could go in Hungary.

Note: UN Ambassador Lodge is telling Senate friends the question of Russia's refusal to withdraw its troops from Hungary will again be raised in the UN "in September."

The Killers — General Paul Maletier, Defense Minister in the tragically shortlived Hungarian coalition government, is to be tried for treason on direct orders from the Kremlin.

That's the information from intelligence sources inside the Iron Curtain.

It is corroborated by freedom fighter leaders now in the U.S. They have informed authorities that Maletier, in preparation for his forthcoming trial, has been subjected to torture to force him to "confess."

Significant testimony on that and other Hungarian developments has been given the House Un-American Activities Committee by Sándor Kiss and Janos Horvath, who led fighting units in last year's uprising. They estimate Russia now has 250,000 troops in Hungary.

"General Maletier is in the largest prison in Budapest," Kiss declared, "and it is guarded by special Russian units. On the third floor of this prison the Soviet secret police has chambers where victims are terrorized and tortured to obtain information and confessions from them. That is where General Maletier is being tortured. But our information is that he is bearing up extremely well, despite all the brutalities and privations."

Numerous Russian atrocities were recounted by Horvath. He also declared there is no likelihood of early renewal of last year's revolt.

"The Hungarian people can do nothing," Horvath told the House Committee, "because their situation is virtually hopeless without outside help. Last fall, when there was real opportunity to liberate Hungary, the free world did nothing except voice pious good wishes. Now the Hungarian people cannot do any more by themselves. We did our best last October, and the free world let us go under. So until the free world is ready to give concrete help, the Hungarian people will have to take it and like it."

Casualties in the uprising were estimated by Horvath and Kiss at more than 20,000 dead and several times that number wounded. They reported unemployment is widespread in Hungary, putting the total at around 500,000.

Opportunities Unlimited

Nobody Needs To Be A Total Ignoramus

By Anne Heywood
We all have days when we feel ignorant times when the conversation turns to subjects we don't know anything about and everybody else seems brilliant.

What can you do about it? Well, the worst thing to do is to base your own self-estimate on one experience.

Mrs. K. shows signs of doing this.

Didn't Finish School
"I never went to college," she writes, "and, as a matter of fact, I didn't finish high school. I don't often worry about it, but I did at the club last week."

"The visiting lecturer was a brilliant man. All the other women spoke to him, but I couldn't think of a thing to say. I don't know much about music—that was his subject—or anything cultural, really."

"Is there any way I can get a really good education at home, so that I won't always be making a fool of myself?"

Natural Reaction

It's natural that she should feel this way for a brief time, but it's silly to assume that just because she was tongue-tied on one occasion, she's a hopelessly ignorant person.

We all have subjects we know nothing about, and we all have days when we are at our worst. But that doesn't mean we should underestimate ourselves, because there are plenty of subjects we do know about, and plenty of days when we shine!

Second, the best bet, when you're in this position, is openly to admit your ignorance and just listen to the expert. Nothing is more fascinating to most experts than somebody who is interested in their field, but ignorant about it.

There's nothing to be ashamed of in not knowing everything. Furthermore, it gives you a wonderful opportunity to learn. The really good listener gets the best education of all.

Daily Newspaper Is Gold Mine Of New Interests

Third, this woman should pause a certain amount of time every day to read in the subjects which interest her.

Wonderful Help

Here the daily paper is a wonderful boon. Read it all and mark the stories that interest you the most. Then take them to the library and find a book that gives details about the subject.

If you read of a woman who collects glass, for instance, and it interests you, get to the library and get a book about glass. Or it might be a story about the zoo or a new diet or a new way of growing geraniums. Get the "lead," so to speak, from your newspaper and then follow it up at the library.

A few months of doing this, and you'll be a regular encyclopedia of fascinating information.

Successful Trip Result Of Planning

By Jim Riley

Bill Dilgins, 163 N. 2nd St., Stroudsburg, and family recently returned from a trip by boat into southern waters.

Bill, one of Monroe County's greatest motor boat fans, has always wanted to travel the "inter-coastal waters" with his 16-foot craft, powered by a 25-horsepower motor.

The Stroudsburg resident, his wife and two children, last week took the trip out of the planning stage and actually made the journey.

They went to Portsmouth, Va., where they launched their boat. The next day they went down the coast to Mills, N. C., and the following day returned to Portsmouth.

The round-trip from Stroudsburg took five days and cost the Dilgins family less than $100. They camped out each night of the journey.

Bill planned for this trip by writing for a long time to people living in the "inter-coastal waters" region and getting all the information necessary for such a venture.

Dilgins is hopeful that his next trip of this type will be in Florida waters.

Mrs. Robert Miller, 906 Main St., Stroudsburg, is busy preparing for the annual Pocono Mountains Beauty Pageant to be held in June.

The Monroe County YMCA Auxiliary is sponsoring the annual affair this year.

The winner will enter the state pageant and if she is lucky enough will take part in the national competition in Atlantic City.

Oscar Stuckey, N. Fifth St., is sporting a new station wagon. Here's a guy that really has it made.

Kenneth Risley, veteran employee of The Daily Record, embarked on a week's vacation yesterday—the lucky character.

The newcomer has been named Douglas William MacLeod. Mother and baby are both doing well.

Mr. Rooney and Mr. Cohan
Hollywood and TV have driven us to propose the immediate formation of a Society for the Protection of Notable Americans Against P. R. posters.

As played in "Mr. Broadway" he was made to appear an erratic, highly explosive, unpleasant theatrical idiot. He seemed more like "Mr. Psychopathic." There was not a suggestion of the personable, gay-hearted, nimble-witted genius of show business who came to Broadway as a boy wonder, forged his way to the top, writing his own musicals and turning out songs known to millions. Of course Mickey Rooney was behind the eight ball to begin with, since he physically bore no slight resemblance and could only make the dapper, clean-cut athletic-looking Cohan seem like a "two other fellows" throwback.

Mickey is a vastly entertaining performer in the right slot, but in no detail of form, personality, routines, mannerisms or style did he come even close to a passing mark in the role of one of the most colorful, talented and engaging men in the history of the theater. Cohan in his earlier days could be cocky, irritating and fresh, but he was never the arrogant, arm-swinging, noisy, wholly unattractive, dumb popoff portrayed by Mickey. George was vain and difficult at times, but there was always about him the suggestion of Irish warmth, humor and color. There was no mistaking the fact that he had rare talent and genuine ability.

244 Flour Packages Short Weighted In Area

Only Six Found To Be Standard

INVESTIGATION of flour packages in Monroe County stores continued yesterday and officials said that "only six out of 250 bags showed correct weight."

John Schimmel, State Inspector of weights and measures, told The Daily Record last night:

"If five or six bags of flour can show the weight needed for full and fair measure—the amount the customer is paying for—there's no reason in the world why all flour packages should not contain the correct amount."

"This is nothing in the world but negligence on the part of the packer and the national firms handling flour."

Schimmel said that the crack-down which he and Ralph Van Buskirk, local weights and measures official, began on Wednesday, has aroused "considerable comment."

He said that store owners have been very cooperative and receptive. In nearly all cases, he said, storekeepers have volunteered their assistance readily.

Plan
One major store manager in Stroudsburg informed Schimmel yesterday that he intends to have all flour packages weighed on arrival at his store. If the packages do not fulfill standards in weight, Schimmel said, the store manager "intends to ship them back to the warehouse."

A warehouse in Allentown yesterday refused to take returned flour packages back again, Schimmel said he had been informed by area weights and measures officials.

Schimmel will confer with officials in the Allentown-Bethlehem area this weekend on the matter.

The local State inspector said that short-weight in flour packages tested by investigators continued to run about the same yesterday as in the previous two days.

Most of the shortages are for from one to eight ounces per package. In some cases, especially in larger bags, the shortage rises to nearly one pound.

Schimmel again repeated a warning to consumers "not to accept flour packages for purchase" if they are short-weight. He also reiterated his previous statement that "local store owners or managers should not be held responsible for short-weight packages since the responsibility lies solely with the original packager, the mill and the distributor."

Scanlon, deputy CD director of Montgomery County and F. P. Boyle of the Radiological Division of Carbon County.

Civil Defense Units Of 119 Counties End Two-Day Radiological School At College

JUDGE FRED W. Davis, director of Civil Defense for Monroe County, yesterday visited the two-day Radiological School conducted by the State Council of Civil Defense at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and briefly addressed the members of the class.

He drew attention to the valuable instruction being made available through these State training sessions and challenged the students to take full advantage of the opportunities being offered. He paid full tribute to the quality of instruction being offered by Col. Edwin H. Feather, director of training for the State Council of Civil Defense, who designed the present course in radiological defense.

The school opened on Thursday morning and concluded late yesterday afternoon. The purpose of the training was to orient instructors in the latest methods of radiological defense. Enrollment in the class was by State invitation to the 19 counties comprising the Eastern Area Division of Civil Defense and was therefore limited.

Successful

According to Col. Feather, who conducted the course, "The Radiological School at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College was one of the most successful training enterprises ever sponsored by the State. The members of the class were the right kind of men for radiological work, demonstrated high intelligence and unusual interest."

Said Col. Feather, "We are highly pleased with the results we have been able to attain in the school and the splendid cooperation shown by the Monroe County Civil Defense organization headed by Judge Davis, made our work easy."

Concluding sessions yesterday were confined to the practical working out of realistic problems in radiation detection. Students were made acquainted through personal use with the latest equipment used to locate other related devices. These instruments were used to locate deposits of uranium and Cobalt 60 which were hidden about the premises by the instructor. Students were taught how to compute the strength of these radiation deposits and how to log the results.

Shortly before the school was officially closed, Jack Anderson, Eastern Area Director of Civil Defense, appeared before the group and spoke on the necessity for full scale radiological instruction in every county. He announced the dates and places where future courses would be given by the State and invited the class members to attend whenever they had the opportunity. He also invited the group to attend the Civil Defense exhibit which is to be held at the Tobyhanna Signal Depot on Armed Forces Day next Sunday.

Policeman Suspended After Scuffle With Burgess Harris

Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris was jailed by a Stroudsburg patrolman yesterday after the two scuffled in the middle of Seventh St.

The policeman, Charles Allen, has been suspended from the force.

A score of people saw the incident opposite Bank Alley which wound up with the burgess spending 18 minutes in cell 3 at the city jail.

Allen said he locked Harris in the cell at 12:10 p.m. and telephoned Chief James H. McConnell. The chief released Burgess Harris at 12:58 p.m., Allen added.

Allen was waiting when the two came upstairs from the basement cell block. "The mayor pointed at me and said I was through," the suspended officer declared.

(Burgess Harris later called The Daily Record and said "I didn't suspend Allen. Chief McConnell suspended him for conduct unbecoming an officer while on duty. I approved the chief's action.")

McConnell issued the suspension order at 1 p.m. Allen went home to "take the afternoon off."

The burgess also left to change his deep blue suit and straw hat. A witness to the scuffle said his trouser leg was torn and his hat "trampled on."

Before the argument started, Allen was directing traffic at the Seventh and Ann St. intersection. The burgess earlier had ordered police to route all trucks through Ann St. to avoid congestion.

"A driver asked me directions and while I was helping him out a truck started by," Allen said. "Traffic was piling up and he couldn't back up again, so I waved him on through to Main."

Allen told the following story: The burgess was walking down from the Stroudsburg First-National bank at the corner. He halted the truck and questioned the driver, opposite Bank Alley.

Allen switched on the automatic traffic signal at Ann St., and approached.

He said he told the burgess, "I'll take the blame. It was my fault. Don't blame that truck driver, blame me."

The policeman said an argument followed:

"I said let's get off the street, and took his arm. He told me, 'You can't put me off the street and no one else can either.'"

Then, according to Allen, a pushing-shoving bout followed during which Allen's shirt was bruised. The officer said he'd lock the burgess up, and Harris retorted he "couldn't."

Allen said he got Harris to the curb in front of the Lenape Apartment, where more shoving took place. The burgess lost his footing, fell to the gutter.

Allen called Special Policeman Herman (Dutch) Phillips who was standing nearby. Phillips said he helped lift Harris to his feet.

"Get a taxi," Phillips quoted Allen. "I'm taking him to jail."

No one called a taxi; the officer commandeered a privately-owned black Ford coupe parked at the curb.

"The mayor got in the car," Phillips said. "He looked at me through the window and said, 'I'll get you.' Then they drove off toward the police station."

Later in the afternoon at his office, Harris said "nothing much happened." He said Allen must have been "off" again.

"I didn't say anything at all to Charlie," he declared. "He came over and said something or other."

Asked why he had retained Allen on the force, the burgess replied, "Because I've got a big heart."

Allen the burgess said, was fired. All through.

"You mean action will be taken at the next council meeting?" Harris was asked.

"The council has nothing to do with it," he replied. "If they hire him again, I'll fire him the next day."

Next council meeting will be September 5.

A few hours after the incident, Chief McConnell called at the office of Attorney George T. Robinson, borough solicitor.

"His business was partly off-cial and partly private," Robinson said.

The attorney said borough law permits a burgess to suspend a policeman until the next council meeting.

"Sure," the burgess added, "Get three if you want them."

McConnell said he would try to get a man to replace Allen today. "Sure," the burgess added, "Get three if you want them."

Said an eye-witness to the incident, Mrs. Robert E. Lawson, 19-C Lenape Apartment, Seventh St., "He (the burgess) provoked Charlie and both of them lost their tempers, that's true. But how much can a human being take?"

Mrs. Lawson was in front of her apartment when the scuffle started.

"Charlie said 'Don't tear into that trucker, I'll take the responsibility. Then they were pushing and shoving. The mayor went down. Charlie got him back to the sidewalk, but he tried to tear loose and went down again. He fell practically at my feet."

"Then Charlie called Dutch Phillips over to help him pick the mayor up."

"Charlie called for a cab, but there was none. My car was parked at the curb, and he took it. The mayor got in by himself. I had to run around to the driver's side and get my purse and groceries. They were still on the seat."

Last night Burgess Harris said at his home he was not planning to press any charges against Allen.

"I don't want to make it hard for anybody," he said. "I never had a cross word with him (Allen) in my life — and I didn't have any today. He was just off base. In my five terms in office, I've never had a cross word with any policeman."

Allen spent the early part of the night at the borough fire station with his wife. He said he needed to get away from the telephone calls he had been receiving from Stroudsburg residents.

He said he had not yet decided whether to press charges against the burgess.

Tent-Caterpillar Must Be Stopped Early In Life

WE ARE at the peak of the tent-caterpillar cycle, according to Arthur E. Ifft, Monroe County Agriculture Agent. The pestiferous crawler, like so many members of the animal kingdom, has its ups and downs in the battle for survival and mating. There are several parasites insects who thrive on this tasty forest. Alas, they are infinitely successful after a time, and, having exhausted their main source of sustenance, they die off; the tent-caterpillar, with its antennae attuned to his fortuitous event, multiply and foray forth until the parasites again are strong enough to engulf this menace to trees.

RETAINING A "SITTING JUDGE" MAKES FOR BETTER GOVERNMENT

We are in full accord with the sentiments expressed in the editorial which appeared in The Daily Record on February 13, 1957, endorsing Judge Fred W. Davis on the basis of his record and experience. Following is the full text of that editorial:

THE "SITTING JUDGE" principle has long been followed in Pennsylvania. It is a commendable attempt to keep the courts as free as possible of politics.

This principle says that a judge up for reelection should, in the absence of misconduct and some similar offense, have the support of both political parties.

Experience has proved that the practice of extending bipartisan support to worthy sitting judges and retaining them on the bench makes for better government.

A judge who has completed his term and who has handled his judicial duties with integrity and fidelity should be kept on the bench. Otherwise, judges who are fearful of being turned out of office at the end of their current terms would be tempted to yield to political expediency while on the bench.

If judges are not divorced from politics, the best qualified lawyers will be unwilling to accept appointment or seek election to the bench and the foundations of an independent judiciary will be undermined. And an independent judiciary is one of the essential cornerstones upon which American liberties depend.

The sitting judge principle assures people of tried and experienced judges. Political consideration should play no part in their selection.

The Pennsylvania Bar Assn., its membership made up of attorneys all over the state, appreciates the importance of keeping able and experienced jurists on the bench. It has been trying for many years to take judges out of politics.

County bar associations have frequently crossed party lines to endorse sitting judges they know to be well qualified.

Just recently, the Lackawanna Bar Assn. endorsed Common Pleas Judge Otto P. Robinson and Orphans Court Judge James

Brady for renomination and reelection. The former is a Republican, the latter a Democrat.

Similarly, the Schuylkill County Republican Committee's executive board endorsed two sitting judges, James Curran, a Democrat, and Charles Staudenmeier, a Republican, whom it described as "industrious, impartial and fearless jurists."

On May 10, 1954, the Monroe County Bar Assn. endorsed the candidacy of President Judge Chester H. Rhodes of Stroudsburg for reelection to the Pennsylvania Superior Court.

Earlier in the same year, The Daily Record called for the support of the three sitting judges of that court, Judge Rhodes and the late F. Clair Ross, both Democrats, and Judge Robert E. Woodside, a Republican. All three were reelected.

This year, the citizens of Monroe and Pike Counties will have the opportunity to cast another vote for good government. Judge Fred W. Davis, who has served on the bench in the Monroe-Pike District since June 12, 1945, has announced he will seek both Republican and Democratic nominations for reelection at the May 21 primary election.

Judge Davis has served the district well since he was elevated to the bench to succeed the late Judge Samuel E. Shull.

He has demonstrated his capabilities and his 12 years' experience cannot be gainsaid. His reputation as a learned and fair jurist has brought him in demand to handle cases in courts the length and breadth of this Commonwealth.

The Daily Record feels, as it felt when Judge Rhodes was seeking reelection, that Judge Davis' record is a credit to the courts he has served and is exemplary of the independent judiciary that is our ideal.

It believes sincerely, therefore, that . . .

HEAVY FROST fell on many parts of Monroe County yesterday morning, killing plant life in scattered areas.

Stroudsburg Weather Observer William Hagerly reported the mercury dipped to a mighty chilly 30.2 degrees at 5:45 a. m.

Meanwhile, Mount Pocono weather observer, Mrs. John T. Grady, recorded a 31.6 degree reading there at 6 a. m.

"There was a heavy frost," she said. "But I don't think it was a killing frost."

Thin layers of ice were reported in buckets containing water. These reports were received from several sections of the county.

Exclusive Daily Record Story On Illegal Passports Part Of Congressional Record

AN EXCLUSIVE Daily Record story on an international passport racket has been made a part of the Congressional Record. The story appeared in this newspaper on May 10 under the heading "Passport Racket Springs Into Open."

In Washington this week Rep. Francis E. Walter, Democrat, this district's representative, entered the full story in the Congressional Record.

The Daily Record story details the operation of "citizenship brokers" operating in Hong Kong. The brokers specialize in provision of illegal papers to Chinese Communist Government agents so they may enter the U.S.

According to the story, such papers are sold at $1,000 per person and the Red Chinese government is the biggest buyer.

Crooked brokers are utilizing the "Derivative Citizenship" Law to draft false papers. This provision permits any child of an American citizen to enter the U.S. outside and beyond regular clause of the McCarran-Walter immigration quotas.

Once inside the U.S., the report continued, Red agents engage in a planned Communist program to destroy restrictions on foreign immigration, create Communist cells in "Chinatowns" all over the nation and extort funds from Chinese in 50 countries around the world.

MAYOR HARRIS GETS THINGS DONE

FOR THE TAXPAYERS OF STROUDSBURG

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD

OF A BARKING COUNCILMAN WHO IS NOW SNIPING AT A CONTINUED PROGRESSIVE PROGRAM IN STROUDSBURG

The following facts and figures can be verified from Minute Books and borough audits for the period

March 16, 1955, Doran, at a special meeting of council put through an ordinance to build curbs and gutters on Phillips Street between Lindbergh Avenue and North Eighth Street. The reason for this insane action apparently was that he was then a candidate for County Commissioner and wanted the votes on the township side of the street. (It was kicked out the window at the next regular meeting of council.)

April 4, 1956, Doran introduced a resolution in council to pay $44.00 a share for Monroe County Water Supply Company common stock when it had no real value. (That cost the taxpayers $264,000.00) The purchase of the Water Company represented a total expenditure of $761,000.00. The net earnings of the corporation in 1955, as filed by the Water Company with the Pennsylvania Utilities Commission, was $5,365.89.

During the years of 1950 - '51 - '52 - '53 - '54 Doran, as a member of the borough council, squandered $15,865.33 in garbage collection... and, in 1955, squandered a trust which cost $4,500.00.

During the years of 1952 - '53 - '54 - '55 Doran was chairman of the Sewer Committee in charge of fixing sewer rates, which averaged about $8.00 per capita in the Borough of Stroudsburg. At the same time they were serving more than 700 people in East Stroudsburg for which the Borough of Stroudsburg never received one red cent.

While Doran and his crew were throwing the taxpayers' money around, they received from my office, in meter fines, office fines and appropriations, $127,458.38 for the last seven years. In addition thereto, I personally appeared before the Senate Finance Committee and the House Appropriations Committee at Harrisburg (1953 Session) and received $55,000.00—half the cost of the sewage plant addition as estimated by the engineers.

Now, in 1957, Doran is chairman of the Street Committee of the Stroudsburg Borough Council—and, for the first time in 22 years not a single street has been built, or is being built, in this borough.

An Advertisement that has appeared in The Record indicates that, if elected, DORAN WILL SHIRK THE DUTIES OF HIS OFFICE AS PRESCRIBED BY LAW!

The Laws of the State of Pennsylvania (Sec. 1125 of the Borough Code) states that: "the Burgess of the Borough shall have full charge of the Chief of Police and the Police Force. He shall direct the time during which, the place where, and the manner in which the Chief of Police and the entire police force shall perform their duties."

An advertisement which appeared in The Daily Record on Tuesday, May 14, 1957, indicates that Doran is not willing to assume that responsibility. Perhaps, if Doran reviews the record, there are many other responsibilities of a chief burgess which he is either unwilling or incapable of assuming. You surely do not want a "shifty" mayor, one who shifts, rather than assumes, responsibilities.

Tonight's concert will be divided into two scenes. Scene 1 takes place "In the Park" with narration written and delivered by Madalyn Maloney.

Other highlights will be Frank Loesser's "Once in Love With Any" from "Where's Charley?"; "Remember," "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor" and "God Bless America," all by Irving Berlin; "Lavender Blue" by Eliot Daniel; "I Love a Parade" by Harold Arlen and "You'll Never Walk Alone" by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

The second scene will be made up of "Songs of Reverence" including "Onward, Christian Soldiers," "Holy, Holy, Holy," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "The Creation."

New Arguments Filed In Monroe County Court

NEW ARGUMENTS have been filed in Monroe County Court by both sides in a dispute between Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris and William Tarr, Stroud Township trucking firm owner.

The dispute involves an injunction which restrains Harris from diverting heavy commercial traffic down Ann St., except on special days between June 1-Oct. 15.

Tannersville
Mrs. Harry Janson
Phone 1416-R-3

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ochs, of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Halstead and children, Jeanne, Jill and Peggy, of Tannersville and Mrs. Eva Hammer of Scotrun, held a family get-together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Janson, Miss Gail Gravatt, of Philadelphia, was also a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nuray and Jerry Halstead, of Tatamy, spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Nuray's mother, Mrs. Margaret Halstead. Mrs. Nuray is coming along fine after a long siege with a broken ankle.

Harris has asked the court to dissolve the injunction because a recent State Superior Court decision allows municipalities to regulate traffic within their own jurisdiction.

Reply

In reply, Tarr argues that Harris has no standing in petition because he allegedly has committed acts which are, at least, "technical violations of the decree."

Harris claims that borough traffic conditions have become extremely congested during periods when the injunction is in force. He further maintains his right, as Stroudsburg's chief law enforcement officer, to relieve the congestion.

In a further answer to Harris' petition for dissolution of the order, Tarr claims that Burgess has failed to specify when, how often, and for what reasons, if any, traffic conditions have been congested in Stroudsburg.

Harris has denied that he has committed any acts violating the injunction.

Mrs. Cohen thanked the members for the volunteer work they had done on cancer dressings and said that the cost of supplies in the county would be five times as high if it were not for the work of volunteers in the community. The Cancer office in Stroudsburg is open Monday, Tuesdays and Fridays from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m., she announced.

Mrs. Walter Schneider, Civil Defense manager of the Mount Pocono mass care center, reported on a meeting on mass care she had attended in Stroudsburg. There are now 44 mass care centers in the county, she announced. The one at Mount Pocono is in Zone 4.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

As a social editor, I should know the tactful way to un-invite guests, but I don't. It sounds so blunt to say "Mothers are not invited to the Brownie Circus today," but that's what it amounts to.

Actually, I don't think they'd really object to the mothers, but there will be no place for them to sit down — and two hours is a long time to stand while the Brownies perform for their own amusement. As a former Brownie mother myself, however, I think the news that the mothers may stay home today will come more in the nature of a reprieve than a disappointment.

Just think, two extra hours in your day today, and without a Brownie in the house — why it's practically an extra Mother's Day present. Which reminds me of the Mother's Day story like Miller tells on herself. Seems Bobby, in common with his little classmates, made a Mother's Day card.

All the children could select their own mother-and-baby pictures to decorate the cards, real mothers and babies, mother birds and nestlings, or whatever. Well, I like scarcely knew whether to laugh or cry at the one Bobby had selected — a mother cow and its calf.

And Doris Shinn may have been surprised at the contents of her big Mother's Day package, but she wasn't disappointed. It was a tremendous package — big enough for an electric roaster, maybe. Inside, all curled up wearing a grin as wide as his face and holding up three Mother's Day cards was her youngest, whom the older children had wrapped up and tied with loving care.

Paradise PTA Discuss Tax Assessments, Elect Officers

Swiftwater—A round table discussion on the work being done on the equalization of tax assessment was one of the features of the meeting of the Paradise Parent Teachers Association at the school on Monday night.

Carl Hamblin gave a report on the plans to organize a Cub Scout troop in Paradise, and called attention to the training course, the first of which will be held at the school on Monday, May 20, for all those interested in Cub Scouts.

Alfred Freeland, principal, led an open discussion on the report cards and marking system, with a majority showing approval of the system now in use at Paradise School.

Mrs. Donald Brown was elected president of PTA with these supporting officers: Mrs. David Toms, vice president; Mrs. Glenn Sanborn III, secretary, and James van Hovenberg, treasurer. A letter was read from retiring president, Mrs. Freeland, in which she thanked all who had helped during her leave of absence.

The group voted to send a contribution to the Monroe County Council of PTA for the purpose of sending delegates to Bloomsburg State College in July. Mrs. Richard Leles announced that the hot lunches would be discontinued for the season on May 24.

Mrs. Brown reported that the Playground Fund has reached the halfway mark toward the goal of $3,000. The square dance held last week at Highland Inn netted $113 for the playground work. Parents took advantage of the daylight to inspect the basketball court is nearly completed as well as much of the other equipment installed. Mr. Freeland asked that mothers be delegated to supervise the playground activities, and Mrs. David Neisen was named chairman of the committee in charge.

A covered dish supper is planned for June 3, at 6:30 p. m., to honor Miss Mildred Anderson, first and second grade teacher, who is retiring this year. Mrs. Carl Hamblin and Mrs. Richard Leles are in charge of arrangements.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

I hope everyone heard our Wyckoff Shopper broadcast of Thursday when Lt. Colonel Bob Glover, acting commander of the Tobyhanna Signal Corps depot, extended a general invitation to the Armed Forces Day "open house" this Sunday, May 19th. The first Open House was held at Tobyhanna depot in 1955 . . . and there has been one each year since, with as many as 20,000 persons annually wandering through the miles and miles of storage space and repair shops which constitute one of the largest Army installations of its kind in the world.

Entertaining Colonel Glover and his companion, Colonel Johnson, in the Tea Room after the broadcast, Sherry Widmer and I were amazed to learn that no matter what was mentioned—photography, printing, metal plating, engraving, et cetera—it is not only done at the depot, but sometimes a complete shop, modern in every detail, is devoted to it. Among the many important jobs handled at the depot is the supplying of equipment to the armed forces in Europe. It is possible, for instance, for an officer in Frankfurt, Germany, to contact the Tobyhanna depot direct by radio or telegraph, and place an order which will, almost immediately, be sent out.

In the course of our conversation about many things, the air force was mentioned, and then, in some way, we began chatting about Charles Lindbergh and the motion picture "The Spirit of St. Louis". Colonel Johnson said he had heard about the movie and was proud that in a small, indirect way, he had had a part in its production. It seems he had been stationed in Europe when scenes for the film were being shot at Le Bourget where "the lone Eagle" had landed, and Colonel Johnson supplied the radio equipment needed to hold the crowd in check.

Both Colonel Glover and Colonel Johnson, with their families, have seen much of the world in their years with Uncle Sam. As a result, they are delightful conversationalists . . . and there is no doubt that they are excellent fathers. Mention his five year old Margaret, and Colonel Glover beams with pride. Ask about his three children, Susan, 6; Karen, 3, and Erik, 2, and Colonel Johnson's eyes glow warmly. They are, you feel, just the type of men you like to think of as wearing the uniforms of our country.

These men, and the others who represent our government at Tobyhanna, will be hosts to the throngs visiting the Depot this weekend. The gates will be flung wide to the public at 9:30 a.m., and the scheduled program will get under way at 11 with a flame thrower demonstration. A jet aircraft flyover is scheduled for 1 p.m., and at 1:30 there will be the detonation of a simulated atomic bomb on a nearby ridge. This "bomb" has been created from a number of explosives, including gasoline, and while it will be set off at a safe distance from crowds and homes, it will nevertheless give an authentic picture of what happens when a real atom bomb explodes. There will be the same mushroom effect . . . the same feeling of awe one would experience in seeing the real thing.

At 2 o'clock there will be an address by Assistant Secretary of the Army, Dewey Jackson Short, who will be at the Depot in person. At 2:30 there will be a drill team to delight those who love a parade—and don't we all? And so it will be throughout the entire day . . . one demonstration after another, with retreat at 5:00 p.m. The huge cafeteria that feeds depot personnel will be operating, and there will be various points around the grounds where light refreshments may be purchased.

It sounds like an exciting day, doesn't it?—so do attend, if you can. As an American citizen, YOU have a personal investment in the depot . . . and as a Monroe Countyman you probably have a very personal interest in one or more of the depot employees. We all should have another, even more consuming interest, in the theme of the festivities . . . the three word slogan at the bottom of the printed program: POWER FOR PEACE. That's something our weary old world never can have enough of—peace.

Writers Hold Final Class Of Term

EAST STROUDSBURG night school for writers had its final meeting on Thursday night. The class was held in the North Courtland St. school under the guidance of Mrs. Frances Kilfin, its instructor.

Mrs. Kilfin emphasized the importance of plotline in writing, maintaining that it gives the story the necessary element of opposition. The story, she concluded, must create a single dominant effect.

Rejection slips also occupied a large portion of Mrs. Kilfin's remarks. Although telling her students to fortify themselves with an unwelcome eventuality, she cautioned them not to "harden themselves and lose the fine edge which a writer needs."

Exercises were submitted by William P. Deering and Mrs. Fred Hart.

Whitehall Erases Stroudsburg, 8-1

WHITEHALL RODE on the strong arm of Bob Gontkowski into a three-way tie for the Lehigh Valley League last night by dumping Stroudsburg, 8-1, under the lights at Gordon Giffels field.

Gontkowski, a fireballer, set down the Mountaineers with two hits and fanned 14 enroute to posting the Zephyrs fifth victory in six starts. The loss closed the LV season for Stroudsburg with a 3-4 log. Over-all Jerry Stulgaitis boys own a 6-4 record.

Whitehall took a lead it never relinquished in the second inning when they hopped on Mountaineer starting hurler Ron (Super) Phillips for five runs. With Gontkowski hurling, this proved more than enough for the win.

LEHIGH VALLEY	W	L	Pct.
Whitehall 8, Stroudsburg 1	5	1	.833
Palmerston 11, Mattington 1	5	1	.833
Northampton 5, Emmaus 5	3	3	.500
Catsasqua 12, Lehigh 3	3	3	.500
Mattington 1, Lehigh 3	1	6	.143

The Zephyrs got two more in the fifth and added one more in the eighth to put the win away.

Stroudsburg got their lone tally in the last frame — the seventh.

Phillips pitched fair ball. He whiffed 11 Zephyrs, however, five walks intermingled with the nine Whitehall hits proved his downfall.

Third baseman Ron Stopp and Phillips picked up the two hits off Gontkowski. Both were singles.

GET THAT FINGER OUT OF MY EYE, 'BUB' — The base umpire in the Stroudsburg High and Whitehall game at Gordon Giffels field last night "explains" interpretation of play to Whitehall's coach. In a rubber however, the Zephyr mentor stabs finger one-inch degree from the arbiter's eye and the official either is pleading to the coach to calm down or is putting hands up in self defense. ## Unbeaten Pocono Posts 5th, Polk Notches 4th Loop Win

UNBEATEN POCONO TWP. HIGH and third place Polk High notched victories in the Monroe Scholastic Baseball League yesterday. Pocono, behind a 14-hit attack and the shutout pitching of a trio of hurlers, blanked Tobyhanna, 16-0.

Gene Meekes' home run in the last inning gave Polk a 5-4 verdict over Barrett.

Burdette Peechatka, Paul Fralley and Bryson combined for the Pocono blank job. They scattered six hits in hurling Harry Weikheiser's nine to its fifth straight league triumph.

Bryson Homers

Bryson also helped out at the plate hammering a 4-ply wallop and a single. Also chipping in with a pair each for Pocono were Ed Pooley, Larry Starnor, Norb Vlahnesky, Zeek and Shick.

Gerald Keiper, the starting and losing pitcher, led Tobyhanna—now 0-3—with two safeties.

Kegling Champs To Roll In Pin Tournament Today

CANADENSIS—The Budweiser Bowling Team—the New York Yankees of the ten-pin sport—will appear here today at 8:30 p. m. The Beer Barons are the favorites in the Pocono State Bowling Tournament which began on May 3 for an estimated $48,000.

The Buds are composed of six big-time bowlers who were well established as top-flight competitors well before the team was formed in 1954. Included in this sextet are Don Carter of TV fame, Dick Weber and Ray Bluth. "Whitey" Harris, the captain of this all-triumphant combine, is probably its least known member.

Kings of Bowling

Holders of the 1956 and 1957 National Team Match Game Championships—the World's Series of Bowling—the Buds are probably the most formidable squad in the history of bowling. In Weber, Carter and "Pat" Patterson, they have the trio of second, third and fourth highest individual averages in that tourney; in blitzing 26,249 pins in the 1956 event (they beat the Detroit Strubs by 747 pins) they set three records: (1) an average of 1991 pins per game (more than a 200-average per man); (2) Most 300 series, 7; and (3) Eleven 1100-plus series in a 24-game match. The following year they "fell" to a total of 25,285 in crushing the Chicago Falstaffs by 1064 pins.

In Carter, the Hopmen have one of the most popular bowlers in today's game, bowling only to Lou Camp. Carter won the 1957 National Individual Match Game Championships, the first man ever to capture this title three times. He had previously taken the diadem back-to-back in 1953 and 1954—a feat which had only been matched by Andy Varipapa.

Weber Pressed

However, his victory in 1957 was not decided until the last series. His most pressing opponent? Dick Weber.

Weber holds the current national doubles title. His teammate? Ray Bluth.

After their showing tomorrow, the Buds move to Bangor in order to display their mastery of the alleys on Sunday.

Weekend schedule:

May 18—5:30 p. m. Persell, Holler, N.Y.; Tony Joyce, Newark, N.J.; Charles Weber, Allentown, Pa.; Buster Gloga, Rochester, N.Y. 8:30 p. m. Budweiser Team, St. Louis, Mo.; Bill Bingham, Allentown, Pa.; 10:30 p. m. Budweiser Team, Jim Casper, Allentown, Pa.; Frank Wolf, Bob Schultz, Joe Schwartz, Joe Soto, Gersamer Brothers, Phil Dimas, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Tom Bangor, Birmingham, Mich.

Trophy Shoot Set Tomorrow

BANGOR—Championship trophy shooting is slated for the grounds of the Blue Mt. Rod and Gun Club, Bangor, Sunday afternoon, starting at 12:30 o'clock. Two awards, one symbolic of the 1957 title and the other which remains in circulation until it is retired by the champion who wins it three different years, will be at stake.

Only club members in good standing the past year may shoot for these awards. Past champions in this fourth annual event are John Young, of Bethlehem; Bill Junglas, of Easton; and Bucky Hess, of Bangor. Junglas continues in military service and was unable to defend his title last year but both Young and Hess are expected to be on the firing line.

Dorney Races To Start Today

ALLENTOWN—The initial stock car auto races of the season on the fifth of a mile asphalt track at Dorney Park here, today starting at 8:30 p. m.

A field of more than thirty drivers, including all the members of the Lehigh Valley Stock Car Racing Association, will be on hand for the season's inaugural night, and some real racing is in store for the speed fans.

Big Weekend In Bangor Sweepstakes

BANGOR—This may be the big weekend in the first annual singles tournament currently in progress at the State Belt Bowling Center, Bangor, inasmuch as outstanding Lehigh Valley keggers will join with some of the topnotch performers of the nation in a try for the $1,000 jackpot offered in both the actual and handicap divisions.

Local talent will be led by Bangor's Bob Schultz, Allentown's Julius Grosso, Northampton's Frankie Wolfel and a number of other pinsters familiar to fans throughout the area, while invading professionals will be led by the Budweiser team, of St. Louis, Mo., and such kimpins as Don Carter and Tom Hennessey.

Roll at 3 and 5.
The Budweiser contingent will be rolling at 3 and 5 p. m., Sunday, and on at 7 p. m., on the same day. In addition, there will be competitors from various other in-state and out-of-state communities in action both Saturday and Sunday. Vic Kalman's Bowling World team, of New York City, also highlight the program Sunday.

Babe Ruth Mothers To Meet Tuesday

A MEETING of the Babe Ruth League's Mothers Club will be held Tuesday at Stroudsburg High School, starting at 7:45 p. m. BR officials Dough Schoonover and Edwin Krawitz will meet with the mothers and explain the need for a ladies auxiliary within the organization.

Other features of the session will be the naming of committees and outlining of projects for the coming year.

A special invitation has been extended to mothers who have yet to attend a BR auxiliary meeting.
